A Big Scheme.

George W. Norton, civil engineer, has just filed a report for the Colorado canal company, from which is taken the following interesting information: "The Colorado canal will head at a point about twenty-eight miles above the town of Yuma, and will be carried around the hilly country above alluded to across the Gila river in pipes or flumes. It will irrigate the land lying between the Colorado and Gila rivers, and also the lands embraced by the table lands on the south and the Gila river on the north, making fully 55,000 acres above Yuma subject to redemption. Below Yuma all the land lying between the line of table lands and the Colorado river, as far as the Mexican boundary line will be reclaimed, some 70,000 acres, and when carried onto the table lands will redeem 80,000 more—a grand total in Arizona of 175,000 acres of as fine land as there is on the continent.

If this canal can be carried on into Sonora by concession from the Mexican government, it will make productive what is estimated at 1,000,000 acres of land.

The cost of this canal system, from its source to the boundary line, will roughly approximate $2,000,000. The width of the canal will be fifty feet on the bottom.

Want Railroads.

Nevada is trying to get out of the mud as well as Arizona. A telegram sent out from Reno Saturday night says: The Nevada state board of trade, at a large meeting held this afternoon, adopted the following resolutions unanimously: Resolved, That the Nevada state board of trade directs the attention of the people of California and the traffic association as well as all railroad companies east of Salt Lake City who desire extending their roads westward, that Nevada fully recognizes the necessity for other and more through lines for the development of its great mineral and agricultural resources, and will do its part to aid and encourage the first company that will begin the work of construction. Attention is further directed to an act passed by the last legislature of furnishing a bonus of $1,380,000 to any company building through the counties of White Pine, Eureka, Olaner, Churchill, Storey, and Washoe within five years. The secretary of the board is hereby directed to communicate with all persons or corporations interested, and to furnish any information in his possession.

Worth Investigating.

George Kohler returned last night from a trip to the Huachuca mountains. He went to the top of the high peak where he discovered a few months ago a cave or deep hole in the mountains. He was provided with a line and plumb which he dropped down a distance of 200 feet before reaching bottom. From the straight nature of the opening he is inclined to believe that it is an old mine or extinct volcano and that his line only reached bottom on a bench. The leaden weight attachment to the line was covered with a reddish yellow mud which would lend color to the theory of the opening being a shaft of an old mine.

The Western Settler's Chosen Specific.

With every advance of emigration into the far west, a new demand is created for Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Newly peopled regions are frequently less salubrious than older settled localities, on account of the miasma which rises from recently cleared land, particularly along the banks of rivers that are subject to freshets. The agricultural or mining emigrant soon learns, when he does not already know, that the Bitters afford the only sure protection against malaria, and those disorders of the stomach, liver and bowels, to which climatic changes, exposure, and unaccustomed or unhealthy water or diet subject him. Consequently he places an estimate upon this great household specific and preventive commensurate with its intrinsic merits, and is careful to keep on hand a restorative and promoter of health so implicitly to be relied upon in time of need. ## STATEHOOD.

The Meeting At Schieffelin Hall Saturday Night.

The people are beginning to be aroused over the question of statehood and take an interest in the discussion of the most important matter in the history of Cochise county.

Notwithstanding the rain and threatening weather on Saturday night, a full house greeted M. E. Collins of Phenix.

The meeting was called to order by Mark Smith who proposed the name of G. W. Cheyney for chairman, which was carried by a solid "yes." Mr. Cheyney thanked the meeting for the honor, in a few well-chosen words and introduced Mr. Collins as a republican who had come to us in favor of statehood.

Mr. Collins at once branched forth and kept his audience riveted to his line of argument which was filled with sense and reason. He was loudly applauded and his earnestness enthused the entire house. He paid his respects to the Florence Enterprise Poston Wright and others, and showed the utter shallowness of their arguments against statehood. He read a letter which he had received from one of the district judges of Montana in which he told of the great benefits which had been derived from statehood up there. Taxes had been reduced, millions of capital had come in and invested and the country had taken such a jump forward that those who opposed statehood up there, now see their folly in having done so.

The speaker sat down amid a storm of applause.

Mr. Cheyney then introduced Mark Smith as "our Mark" and a Democrat. Mr. Smith was in fighting trim and made one of the best speeches of his life. He was earnest, and handled the subject in a manner that called forth storms of applause. To attempt a reproduction of his convincing argument would be simply a literary murder, it would lack the fire and manner which carried his hearers out of bondage into a dream of what our hopes expect to realize for us, after we have thrown off the yoke which is weighing us down.

There was not a man in the audience but who sees the truth of statehood logic, and many persons who had been lukewarm expressed a determination to work and vote with the people in their struggle for advancement. The brass band turned out and helped enthuse the people.

It is the determination to request Mr. Smith to talk again on statehood before the first of December.

Mr. Berrott, who has been wrestling with the railroad problem for a week past, left for San Francisco today.

The receipts of the Sunday School entertainment at the Schieffelin hall were $100.75. The expenses of the same were $22.85, leaving a neat profit of $77.90, which will be used to provide a tree and presents for the children on Christmas.

The noted and successful mining expert, George D. Roberts, arrived at Yuma from New York, Sunday, and on Tuesday left in a small boat accompanied by F. Murphy and two Indians, on a trip to the Sulphur mine in Lower California.—Sentinel.

There is a spring down in San Diego county, so it is stoutly affirmed, the waters of which will cause a luxuriant growth of hair on the balddest pate in the land. Bald headed San Diegans go to these wonderful springs, bathe their heads twice a day for a few weeks and then return to town so disguised by their hirsute adornment that their most intimate friends don't know them.

Good News.

Surveyors are on the way to Tombstone to survey the proposed Fairbank and Tombstone railroad route. It was thought best before any contributions for stock were asked, to make an estimate of the cost. The best piece of news is yet to come. It is that Messrs. Gage, Leach, Berrott and Carrel will bear an equal share of the expenses of the survey. The fact that the heaviest mine owners in Tombstone district, who also own $60,000 worth of mules and wagons are taking the initiative with Messrs. Berrott and Carrel in making the preliminary survey, is a most auspicious showing, and one which will cause much rejoicing among those who favor a progressive campaign from now on until Tombstone is placed where it used to be, the leading city of Arizona.

On Cocaine.

(Globe-Democrat)

"I see by a telegram from some portion of California that a dentist has been charged with the death of a young man who succumbed to a dose of cocaine," said a doctor at the Lindell. "The incident shows the care that has to be exercised by the most skillful in the administration of any anesthetic even when, as in this case, it is a local one. The truth of the matter is, no one is altogether safe in receiving any drug to destroy pain, while at the same time the physician who would undertake to perform a difficult operation without the use of some such means would be considered incompetent by his fellow medical men. Cocaine has proved a boon to the dentist and the oculist for it does away with the necessity of ether or chloroform, which are much more dangerous.

"But there are some constitutions which cannot stand certain medicines. On one man quinine has no effect. With another, it causes, in some instances, temporary blindness, a roaring in the ears and other peculiarities which none but a man who has experienced them can realize. I recall a case where one dose of cocaine locally administered, was so rapidly absorbed that it caused the patient, a hale and hearty man, to faint away in an instant. Therefore it is a question of the doctor knowing his patient and treating him as his knowledge of his system dictates."

A GREAT FIND.

A Mountain of Sulphur and Beds of Nitre and Alum.

D. K. Allen who has been in Lower California for two months past surveying the Gonzales concession recently granted by the Mexican government has returned to Yuma. He took 16 men and 4 boats. The account of his journey and discovery would fill a book.

One discovery was a mountain of pure sulphur. Here is what he relates about it to the Sentinel:

A peak standing in a side break of the great mountains which are on every side, this peak, sentinel like, stands prominent in golden coloring of native sulphur. Without one bit of exaggeration this peak is one solid mountain of pure sulphur. It stands from its base fully 150 feet high, and on its sides great blocks of yellow mineral, tons in weight are found right and left. Great care was taken that none of the party were allowed to smoke as the sulphur is so pure that a spark of fire would set it blazing. This wonderful deposit of sulphur is embraced in the concession granted to Senator Gonzales of Mexico.

Below the sulphur mountain thousands of acres of alum were found. Two miles north of the alum deposit an immense tract of nitre was discovered; the material found is very pure and from the close proximity to tide water will prove of great value to its owners.

They immediately, as if by preconcerted plans, virtually captured the city of Prescott. They visited saloons and where the proprietor would not sell them liquor, they took it by force. They were soon maddened with liquor

Fortunately they had not their arms or ammunition, or the outcome would have been terrible. The troops were called out to preserve property and a hand to hand encounter ensued. The Apaches broke for their arms and ammunition which they were prevented from reaching. At length they were subdued; several broken heads on both sides. ### A Mystery.

How the human system ever recovers from the bad effects of the nauseous medicines often literally poured into it for the supposed relief of dyspepsia, liver complaint, constipation, rheumatism and other ailments is a mystery. The mischief done by bad medicines is scarcely less than that caused by disease. If they who are weak, bilious, dyspeptic, constipated or rheumatic, would often be guided by the experience of invalids who have thoroughly tested Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, they would in every instance obtain the speediest aid derivable from rational medication. This medicine is a searching and at the same time a thoroughly safe remedy, derived from vegetable sources, and possessing, in consequence of its basis of pure spirits, properties as a medicinal stimulant not to be found in the fiery local bitters and stimulants often resorted to by the debilitated, dyspeptic and anguished.

A special from Montreal says that Christopher A. Buckley has apparently established himself there for the winter and shows no disposition to leave.
